The actual batteries are the same; whole-home backup systems just have more of them. To power your entire home during an outage, you'll need a battery system that is about the size of your daily electricity load (about 30 kilowatt-hours (kWh) on average). Comparatively, partial-home battery backup systems usually store around 10 to 15 kWh.

That's a cool trick, but not something you want happening in your house while your batteries are in storage! If you have loose 9V batteries not in their packaging, store them sitting upright to avoid accidents. It's also a good idea to get some plastic 9V battery protectors which cover the posts and prevent accidental contact.
