

CONGO REPUBLIC ELEN ENERGY

What percentage of Congo's population has electricity? Despite the rich energy resources, less than half of the population of the Republic of the Congo has access to electricity; only 11.7 per cent of rural and 58.9 per cent of urban areas are electrified (World Bank, 2016) (Table 3 and Figure 4). This is due to a severe deficiency in electricity infrastructure as a result of the civil war.

Does the Republic of the Congo have hydropower? The Republic of the Congo also has extensive hydropower potential, but most of it remains untapped. The share of renewable energy in the total final energy consumption (TFEC) has been on the decline after a small spike to 72.7 per cent in 2000 before falling to just under 50 per cent in 2012.

Could the Congo become an electricity exporter? Almost all electricity generation today comes from hydropower and the Inga project has the potential to provide much more. If network constraints are addressed, Democratic Republic of the Congo could become an electricity exporter.

How does the Democratic Republic of the Congo support the economy? In the AC, Democratic Republic of the Congo supports an economy six-times larger than today???s with only 35% more energy by diversifying its energy mix away from one that is 95% dependent on bioenergy.

What type of electricity is used in Congo? Renewable electricity here is the sum of hydropower, wind, solar, geothermal, modern biomass and wave and tidal power. Traditional biomass ??? the burning of charcoal, crop waste, and other organic matter ??? is not included. This can be an important source in lower-income settings.
