Does the Netherlands need energy storage? an important market barrier for FoM storage. With a very high renewable energy penetration and a congested electricity grid, the Netherlands has a big need for energy storage. This is highlighted by the TenneT's estimation for ~9GW of storage needs by 2030. The regulatory environment improved for FoM in 2023 with a reduction on grid fees.

Which countries support the deployment of energy storage? EASE supports the deployment of energy storage to enable the cost-effective transition to a resilient, carbon-neutral, and secure energy system. The report covers 14 countries; Belgium, Finland, France, Germany, Great Britain, Greece, Norway, Netherlands, Ireland, Italy, Poland, Spain, Sweden and Switzerland.

Is pumped thermal energy storage a viable investment in Europe? The technology at the most advanced stage of development is Pumped Thermal Energy Storage. There are no commercial operating projects in Europe with these technologies as of end of 2023. Projects like that will require additional support, as the current revenue stack is not enough to justify the initial investment.

What are the key trends in the European storage market in 2023? Key trends in the European storage market in 2023 Following short-term increase in 2022, prices are back on a downwards trajectory. Around 300 MW of FoM projects co-located with renewables got connected in 2023, mainly in Germany. This is around 40% of the cumulative capacity of projects co-located with renewables.

Should battery storage be a gas-centric market? Julian Jansen, senior director for strategy, market development and policy for global battery storage system integrator Fluence, said there was a great opportunity to shape markets at a much earlier stage than in other more developed ones, where storage has had to be fitted in to a gas-centric market

What is energy storage research? This research is part of our Energy Storage Research Service which provides insight into key markets, competitors and issues shaping the sector. The European Association for Storage of Energy (EASE), established in 2011, is the leading member-supported association representing organisations active across the entire energy storage value chain.

With the energy storage industry facing unprecedented growth across the globe, we hope you were able to attend our inaugural Energy Storage Summit Central Eastern Europe in Warsaw, Poland. At the Summit we highlighted the opportunities, challenges and lessons learnt across various countries as the region readies itself for energy storage.

Panelists at this year's Energy Storage Summit Central and Eastern Europe (CEE) in September described Hungary's scheme as one of the most advanced in the world. Grant support for energy storage in the EU has also been activated via a separate scheme, the post-Covid-19 Recovery and Resilience Plan, including in Romania, Finland and Greece.

The CEE energy storage market holds much promise but grants and subsidies might be needed to get it off the ground, said speakers on Day 1 of the Energy Storage Summit Central Eastern Europe (CEE) today.
