Dominica, located in the Lesser Antilles region of the Caribbean Sea, is a mountainous tropical island with a population of roughly 72,000 people spread across its 750 square kilometres. Its population is largely concentrated along the coastal areas, while the rugged interior, including the Morne Trois Pitons National Park, is sparsely inhabited.

Dominica has a very high solar potential and set a renewable energy mix target of 100% by 2035. Presently Dominica's energy mix is comprised of 37% renewable energy on the public grid. Its electrical demand peaks at 13MW and its electricity prices are high relative to the rest of the Caribbean. < Back. First Name. Last Name.

Inspired by our principles, values and successful history, we founded Domenica Solar, a company that specializes in solar energy. Our vision is to enable as many people as possible to generate their own energy, minimizing their electricity spending and reducing their carbon footprint.
